The concept behind:

This workshop designed to give participants a combination of lectures and Dry laboratory experience using various techniques. Delegate will gain experience to various tools used these day to reduce the working time and cost too. The live demo of software will add clear concept in mind about working of the tools and steps involved in it, Prediction of target protein, Drug Likelihood and screening, Homology Modelling and Docking. The Bioinformatic analysis of data on tools gives more accuracy than the traditional method. Experimental exposure will help to understand the direct interaction between the molecules.

Objectives of the Workshop:

The workshop aims at exposure of candidate to basics of techniques, its working & application. It will provide a platform to learn Techniques / software commonly used in Drug designing to get a better insight into computational biology through analysis of Protein – Ligand binding. It will also deal with homology modelling, docking of molecules & simulations.
